Colleagues, Friends, Resources

The Special Library Association (SLA) is the international association representing thousands of information professionals in over 70 countries. Special librarians are information resource experts who collect, analyze, evaluate, package, and disseminate information to facilitate accurate decision-making in corporate, academic, and government settings. SLA offers a variety of programs and services designed to help its members serve their customers and succeed in an increasingly challenging environment of information management and technology. SLA is committed to the professional growth and success of its membership.

Librarians: we're more about computers than we are books.

Nashville or Bust!

Every year special librarians from all over the country get together for a large annual conference where we network and learn more about our jobs. Next year we'll be in Nashville June 5-10, 2004. Come join the fun!

The Kentucky Chapter

What is the Kentucky Chapter of SLA?

Founded in 1975, The Kentucky chapter of SLA continues to foster ongoing professional development and professional networking and provide opportunities to maintain current awareness of technology and professional trends. It is one of the most active chapters of SLA in the country and is a very collegial group of people. Some of the events that we have sponsored are

- Visit the library at the Lexington Herald Leader.
- Tour of the Louisville School for the Blind
- Tour Keeneland library and day at the races
- Joint conference with Kentucky Library Association in the Spring
