At the home of Daria DeCooman on historic Brick Row in National City

Brick Row was constructed by Frank Kimball in 1887 for $30,000. The 10 individual row houses were to be used by the executives of the Santa Fe Railroad. The architectural style is unique to this region and was modeled after the row houses of Philadelphia and similar eastern cities. Brick Row is listed on the National Register of Historic Places and is an integral part of National City's Heritage Square.
