The San Diego Chapter is excited to announce that we are transforming our quarterly Bulletin to a blog! Our ~~Bulletin~~ Blog Co-editor will present this informative program about the creation of the Chapter's blog and will show you how to post to the blog. This program will also be useful for anyone who's interested in creating a blog or learning more about them in general. Come see the premiere of our Chapter blog!

Presenter: Michelle Ohnstad

Michelle recently returned to the library field after being a stay-at-home mom for four years. She currently splits her time between two positions: Head Librarian at La Jolla Country Day School and Library Media Specialist at Pacific Ridge School. Michelle holds a B.A. in Business Administration and Finance from Augsburg College in Minneapolis and an MLIS from San Jose State University. She has been the co-editor of the Bulletin with Mary Wickline since July 2006.

Bonus Tour: After the program, there will be a tour of the new UCSD Biomedical Library! During a 2005-06 construction project, the library was refurbished, modernized, and expanded to nearly double its original size. It serves approximately 4,000 faculty and students and offers 24-hour card-access quiet space for graduate students, group study rooms, an InfoCommons, and an artful, classy, quiet environment for all members of the campus community.

Location: UCSD Biomedical Library, 9500 Gilman Drive, La Jolla

Directions: From I-5 or I-805, exit La Jolla Village Drive and go West. Turn right on Villa La Jolla Drive, follow it to the end (past the VA hospital). At the light, you will see the Gilman Parking Structure. Turn left on Gilman and an immediate right on Russell Dr. so that you can purchase a visitor parking permit from the parking office at that entrance. The parking fee is $1.00 per hour.
